

G.S. SLUGGERS WON GAME

Easily Defeated Newport High, 10 to 1, on the Seminary Campus

DAVIDSON STRONG ALL AROUND

Visiting Pitcher Had Many Strikeouts and Allowed Many Hits

At the Goddard seminary campus yesterday afternoon, Goddard seminary defeated the Newport high school at baseball by a score of 10 to 1. A crowd numbering some over 200 gathered to witness the game, many leaving before the end on account of the extreme cold. A steady wind swept the campus during the whole afternoon.

The visitors sent their star man, Kennison, to the mound. In the first inning the three first men that faced him were struck out. But in the second Captain Witt broke the spell by getting a hit. After this the seminary boys hit Kennison rather hard but nevertheless he succeeded in getting 16 strikeouts during the game.

Not entirely was the loss of the game given to the pitcher, as the team behind him at times gave him poor support. Only three errors were marked down against him, but each of these was very costly, meaning runs. Morrill, the Newport shortstop, was the cause of two of these, letting two speedy grounders go through him; in the first case, a base runner scored and in the second the man allowed first slipped around and scored. The catcher's error was a wild throw over the first baseman's head.

Tom Davidson was chosen to pitch against the high school boys. He did not get as many strikeouts as Kennison, but the hits pounded against him were also of a smaller number. He struck out seven men and allowed but five hits. He is also credited with four assists and two stolen bases. Two hits and one run are also marked to his credit. No. 1 had average for Tommy at yesterday's game.

In the fifth inning the visitors scored their only run of the game. McCauley singled to center field. He stole second while Smith and Stevens were flying out. Nolett came up with a hit and McCauley scored. It was done just in time, for Nolett was immediately caught on second base while trying to steal.

Goddard scored four each in the second and eighth innings and one each in the third and sixth. In the second inning Witt started off with a hit into left field. Hastie struck out, but Keefe batted out a two-bagger, scoring Witt. Morlock knocked one out to shortstop, who fumbled. Quinn came up with a hit that his long legs stretched into a three-bagger. When Davidson hit safely he scored. The result of this inning: Four scores.

Again in the eighth they scored as many more. Davidson hit safely, advanced to second on Willey's hit, stole third, and when Connor came up and slammed the ball over the fence he scored and Willey was advanced to third. Connor was granted a two-base hit by ground rules for hitting the ball over the fence. Scott, who was batting for Fiske, struck out. Witt frightened the pitcher into letting him get first on balls. The bases were now filled when young Hastie came up to bat. He had been doing practically nothing at bat but striking out, and was rather displeasing Coach Hoernle by so doing. A new ball was thrown in, as all the others had been lost. The first one over with the new ball was batted with such a blow that it nearly touched the red fence out by the gate. The three base runners scored and Hastie rested on third base. Farrell was hit by the pitcher, but Morlock and Quinn both struck out, not allowing Hastie to score.

In the third inning Witt had hit safely, got second on error and stole third. When Davidson hit out an easy one to the pitcher he scored when Kennison tried to get Hastie off second. In the sixth inning Witt was allowed first when the shortstop was unable to handle his hit. On Connor's hit he went to third and when the catcher dropped the ball on

ITCHY SALT RHEUM

Sometimes Called Eczema—Removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla

Salt rheum is one of the worst and unfortunately one of the most common of all diseases. How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales, and then does this all over again! Sometimes it covers the whole body with inflamed, burning patches and causes intense suffering, which is commonly worse at night.

Local applications may do some good, but they cannot permanently relieve. The disease will continue to annoy, pain, and perhaps agonize, until the blood has been purified and the general health improved.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, the good old reliable family remedy. It has given perfect satisfaction in thousands of cases. Insist on having Hood's Sarsaparilla, for no substitute acts like it. Get it to-day.—Adv.

Happenings Around the Diamond.

Several young boys had their delight, not in seeing the game yesterday, but in throwing some old potatoes at different people who were attendants at the game.

Goddard cheerers were very quiet until the eighth inning when Hastie made his three-bagger, when they started their cheering, not to finish until the game ended.

Smith, who was catching for the Newport team, made an excellent try for a foul in the seventh inning and would have got it if it had not been for a young boy whom he fell over when trying to catch it.

Farrell, who was at bat twice during the game, succeeded in getting his base by being hit each time.

Pitcher Davidson had a smile for everything yesterday afternoon.

The loss of balls was very great yesterday, both teams having a share in losing them.

Lahar, the Newport right fielder, caught a hard fly which fell through the trees from the end of Davidson's bat in the sixth inning.

Coach Hoernle gave all his players a chance yesterday, sending in Scott and Farrell toward the last of the game.

The game was not played under school-masters' rules, as Davidson was used in the box by Goddard and the Newport pitcher was evidently no young person.

Memorial Day 1915

It is well to set apart at least one day in the year as a time for remembering; a day when we think of patriotism, and heroism, and sacrifice, and fearless, unquestioning devotion to duty; when we remember the brave men, North and South, who gave their lives to a cause they believe in.

The differences for which they battled have disappeared; our Memorial is no longer for the Cause; it celebrates the Courage. We may formally decorate their graves, or not, the true memorial is in the hearts of the men and women and children who now share the heritage of heroism those men left to us.

You may not see what this has to do with the clothing business; these's no particular field for heroism in such work. We don't have to "lay down our lives" in selling clothes. But we have the same sort of spirit in it; a willingness to do all we can in the interests of our customers.

Hart Schaffner & Marx
are one evidence of such a spirit; and we'll try to show you others when you are here.

TRIES TO STOP HANGINGS

Bryan at Villa's Request Intervenes for Five Mexicans

SECRETARY ASKS FOR A DELAY

Gallows All Ready for Arizona Executions Set for To-day

Washington, May 28.—At Gen. Villa's request the state department yesterday took up the case of the five Mexicans under sentence to be executed today in Arizona. Villa represented that the quintet was not fairly tried. The department telegraphed to the governor of Arizona for information and received a full report concerning each case. The governor also stated that the pardons heard not yesterday. In reply the department suggested that the condemned men's sentences be commuted to life imprisonment or at least that their execution be postponed, to give time for investigation.

When it was suggested that the capital punishment was the subject of an Arizona referendum recently and that the verdict was in its favor, Secretary Bryan answered that he was aware of the fact, but that the issue was still much controverted throughout the state. The governor called for a report yesterday on the killing of Rangers Joseph Bates and E. L. Hulen and Customs Inspector Joseph Sitters by Mexican bandits in the Texas big bend section near El Paso, Tex.

Officials admitted it looked as if cavalry would have to patrol the district to prevent the residents from taking the law into their own hands and perhaps crossing into Mexico to avenge themselves, precipitating international complications.

A demand on the Mexican authorities for surrender of the bandits was also looked for.

HASTENED MOTHER'S END, BUT WOMAN MAY GO FREE

Miss Bertha Kreider is Thought to be Insane Following Long Vigil.

Philadelphia, May 28.—No criminal charge is expected to be made against Miss Bertha Kreider, a middle aged woman, who Wednesday placed a chloroformed cotton pad over the face of her dying 75-year-old mother at the Episcopal hospital in an attempt to end her suffering and then tried to end her own life. Cooner's officials yesterday said the death of Mrs. Kreider would probably be ascribed to heart disease.

Miss Kreider was yesterday under observation at St. Mary's hospital, where alienists will ascertain whether her mind was unbalanced as the result of a 72-hour vigil at her mother's bedside. A formal inquest into the death of the aged woman will probably be made today.

According to physicians at the Episcopal hospital yesterday, Mrs. Kreider had been unconscious for three days and for several hours preceding her death had been expected to die momentarily.

STRIKE SHUTS LAWRENCE MILL.
Everett Plant, Employing 2000 Hands, is Closed Indefinitely.

Lawrence, Mass., May 28.—As a result of a strike of fifty-two loommen at the Everett mills, the entire plant, which employs in the vicinity of 2000 hands, will be shut down indefinitely, it was announced yesterday. Part of the plant was shut down last night and the remainder to-night. Agent Milliken says that present conditions did not warrant granting the request or the loommen for "day pay" on bad goods instead of "piece work pay." The strikers claim that their wages under the piece system are materially reduced when the goods run bad.
